Updates from Homebase

HUD has just released the 2025 Continuum of Care (CoC) Program Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO).

As anticipated, this year's competition is a significant shift from prior years and includes major structural and programmatic changes.

Most notably, no more than 30% of a CoC's Annual Renewal Demand may now be used for permanent housing (PH) — including PSH, RRH, and Joint TH-RRH. This new cap will require CoCs to strategically prioritize which permanent housing projects remain within the CoC portfolio and how to sustain others through alternative funding.

CoCs should consider these immediate steps:

- Clarify priority populations and interventions within the 30% limit.
- Assess PH sites dependent on CoC funds and explore sustainability options.
- Identify projects that could shift to other eligible types (e.g., TH, SSO).
- Engage providers on feasibility, staffing, and transition timing.

Other notable NOFO changes:

- Tier 1 is reduced to 30% of ARD (previously 90% in 2024; 93% in 2023).
- Tier 2 scoring now awards points for supportive services participation requirements, which replaces Housing First points.
- The CoC application max score is reduced to 130 (from 200), which changes factor weights.

With the holiday season and a shorter competition window this year, it will be especially important for communities to plan around the required HUD milestones. Please note these the key dates below as you map out internal timelines and decision points.

NOFO News Alert!!!

Best Practices A practical newsletter for people ending homelessness.

Late last night the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) issued the FY2025 CoC Program NOFO. This is despite fierce advocacy efforts by many of you, and bipartisan support to extend current CoC awards for an additional year. The concerns that we have consistently raised about timing of the NOFO, gaps in funding, and major changes were indeed reflected in the document.

To learn more, we encourage you to read this week's coverage in the New York Times, Politico, and NPR.

The fight isn't over yet, but we know communities are now faced with figuring out a path forward. We're working to provide up-to-date information to support you as you navigate these drastic shifts.

The following materials are available for your Continuum of Care as you continue to process the language in the NOFO:

Full Analysis
Overall Side-by-Side Comparison of FY24 to FY25
Side-by-Side Recovery Comparison of FY24 to FY25

Next Week:

- The first "Understanding HUD's FY2025 NOFO" webinar will be on Wednesday, November 19th from 12:00 – 1:30 P.M. PT/3:00 – 4:30 P.M. ET – please register here to attend.
- On Monday, the Alliance will send updated advocacy guidance to help you take action. While Congress did not include a provision that would renew all eligible CoC Program projects for 12 months, there is still an opportunity to get this included in the final THUD appropriations bill. Be sure that you are signed up to receive the Alliance's Advocacy Alerts and information, so that you receive them.

In the coming weeks we will provide new tools and resources, such as a contingency planning toolkit, and we will host additional webinars related to the CoC Program NOFO Competition.

On behalf of the staff at the National Alliance to End Homelessness, thank you for the work you all do every single day. We deeply value the contributions you make to people experiencing homelessness and your communities, and we will continue to fight for the people we all serve.

Note from Chief of Homeless Services-FY 2025 Continuum of Care (CoC) Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO)

Note from Chief of Homeless Services

Dear CoC Membership,

We are writing to inform you that the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has officially released the FY 2025 Continuum of Care (CoC) Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO). This year's NOFO includes several significant updates, including revised funding priorities, an accelerated application timeline, and new requirements affecting both renewal and new project applicants.

In response to the shortened deadlines and the importance of preparing a strong, coordinated community application, the following activities will be scheduled:

Special CoC Membership Meeting:

A special meeting will be convened to review NOFO updates, outline expectations, and discuss our community strategy. \(Monday, November 24, 2025\)

Meetings With Currently Funded CoC Programs:

All CoC-funded agencies will participate in focused sessions on project performance, renewal requirements, and changes impacting Tier 1 and Tier 2. \(Thursday, November 20, 2025\)

Bidders Conference:

A communitywide conference will be held for all interested applicants to review the NOFO, scoring criteria, priorities, and application requirements. \(Tuesday, November 25, 2025\)

Release of the Request for Applications (RFA):

The RFA will be issued shortly and will provide detailed instructions, local deadlines, and required documentation for renewal and new project submissions. \(TBD\)

Weekly Lunch and Learn Sessions:

To support the community throughout the application period, the Office of Homeless Services will host weekly Lunch and Learn sessions. These sessions will be open to all CoC members, providers, and interested community partners and will serve as an open forum for discussing NOFO updates, answering questions, and sharing guidance as new information becomes available. \(Beginning, December 3, 2025\)

Request for Special CoC Board Meeting:

A request will be made for the CoC Board to hold a special meeting to review and approve the final ranked project list and application components prior to HUD's submission deadline. \(TBD\)

Additional details—including meeting dates, times, and session links—will be distributed in the coming days.

Thank you for your continued partnership and your commitment to strengthening San Bernardino County's homelessness response system.

Trump administration policy change makes deep cuts to homeless permanent housing program

More than half of the 2026 funding for the program will be shifted from permanent housing to transitional housing with work and service requirements.

By KATHERINE HAPGOOD 11/13/2025 02:50 PM EST Updated: 11/14/2025 11:28 AM EST

The Department of Housing and Urban Development released policy changes Thursday night that will significantly cut funding for a permanent housing program for people experiencing homelessness.

More than half of the 2026 funding for HUD's Continuum of Care program, which partners with local organizations to connect people experiencing homelessness to housing and resources, will be cut for permanent housing assistance and moved to transitional housing assistance with some work or service requirements. The policy change was first reported by POLITICO.

The funding cuts could put 170,000 people at risk of experiencing homelessness, according to internal HUD documentation previously obtained by POLITICO.

HUD has framed the change as a redirection of funding and "long overdue reform" to prioritize wrap-around services, such as mental health and substance abuse treatment, paired with temporary housing for up to two years. The policy change would move away from the current prioritization of permanent housing, which places formerly homeless individuals in community-based housing without a designated length of stay and is the vast majority of housing provided under the previous funding.

HUD said in a press release Thursday that the program change "restores accountability to homelessness programs and promotes self-sufficiency among vulnerable Americans. It redirects the majority of funding to transitional housing and supportive services, ending the status quo that perpetuated homelessness through a self-sustaining slush fund."

The application for the next grant cycle, which is expected to open in the coming weeks, will close on Jan. 14, two weeks before Congress will be required to determine funding levels for HUD, including the CoC program, according to the notice of funding opportunity.

Project grants will have already expired before the award cycle closes and additional funding is granted. The move that some permanent housing will be left with no funding and tenants could be displaced during the coldest months of the year, said a HUD employee granted anonymity to discuss sensitive matters. The anticipated award day is May 1, which leaves projects without funding for much of the first half of 2026.

Approximately one-third of all current program awards expire between January and June 2026, meaning those projects will run out of funds before the next awards are granted, according to the National Alliance to End Homelessness.

There are concerns that the nine weeks the notice of funding opportunity will be open for is barely enough time for projects to apply for funding with the policy changes, according to the HUD employee.

"It's terrible policy and really irresponsible administration of the program," said Ann Oliva, CEO of the National Alliance to End Homelessness who formerly worked for HUD for more than a decade. "Putting out a grant opportunity with a tight turnaround and massive changes, knowing that you can't get awards out until at least mid year just is deeply irresponsible. They are setting communities up for failure."

Roughly 7,000 awards are expected to be issued totaling about $3.9 billion, according to the notice of funding opportunity. The amount represents a slight increase from the previous year's funding and the guidance recommends that organizations prioritize projects that provide "treatment and services people need to recover and regain self-sufficiency." The additional funding also reflects an increase in fair market rent prices established by HUD. There will be a 30 percent funding cap on all permanent housing projects, so they will now receive a maximum of about $1.2 billion of the program's total funding.

About 87 percent of all CoC program funds ending in 2026 under the previous tranche of funding were slated to support permanent housing in some capacity, according to internal HUD documents.

The policy change is part of HUD's contribution to President Donald Trump's executive order "Ending Crime and Disorder on America's Streets" which requires HUD to "increase accountability" in grants awarded for assistance and transitional living programs. The goal is to end previous "housing first" policies that deprioritize accountability and fail to promote treatment, recovery, and self-sufficiency. HUD is partnering with the White House Faith Office and the Department of Health and Human Services on the executive order requirements.

Additionally, 42 members of the Senate Democratic caucus sent a letter to HUD Secretary Scott Turner on Thursday urging the agency to "immediately reconsider" the policy changes to the CoC program, requesting he "expeditiously" carry out the previously planned and Congressionally authorized two-year notice of funding opportunity.

"This appears to be in contravention of the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act, undermines local decision-making authority, and ignores decades of research that has proven that permanent supportive housing and rapid rehousing are less costly and more likely to be successful in providing long-term stability than other strategies, particularly for chronically homeless people and families," said the letter, obtained by POLITICO, which was led by Sens. Patty Murray (D-Wash.), Elizabeth Warren (D-Mass.), Kirsten Gillibrand (D-N.Y.) and Tina Smith (D-Minn.).

In response to the letter a HUD spokesperson said: "Senate Democrats are doing the bidding of the homeless industrial complex. Their letter makes it clear they are in favor of warehousing people with no treatment for root causes of homelessness - including drug addiction and mental illness."

More than 20 House Republicans, led by Long Island Reps. Andrew Garbarino (R-N.Y.) and Nick LaLota (R-N.Y.), sent a letter to Turner in October, pushing the Trump administration to renew grants for the program, warning that the substantive policy changes "should be implemented carefully to avoid destabilizing programs that serve individuals with severe disabilities related to mental illness, chronic health conditions, or substance use disorders, as well as seniors with disabilities."

FY2025 CoC Program Competition Application Information

Opportunity Name: FY 2025 Continuum of Care Competition and Youth Homeless Demonstration Program Grants NOFO

Application Deadline: January 14, 2026, at 8:00pm EST

These insights are strictly those of the Alliance based on our knowledge and expertise. It should not be read as official HUD guidance on the FY2025 CoC Program NOFO.

FUNDING OVERVIEW

$3.918 billion is available. In addition to the $3.54 billion available through the full year Continuing Resolution, HUD repurposed $100 million originally designated for development of new permanent supportive housing (with Congressional approval) and $294 million of Section 231 funds (recaptured funding).

- This increased amount may be enough to cover the national renewal demand which will now be calculated using the FY2026 Fair Market Rent rates.
- Everything except CoC Planning (or UFA costs) is competitive and must be ranked, including Youth Homelessness Demonstration Program renewals.
- Projects originally awarded under the Special NOFO on Unsheltered and Rural Homelessness that will expire in 2026 are eligible to apply for renewal.
- At least $52 million must be used for new DV Bonus projects, which now may include transitional housing as an eligible project type.

CoCs will continue to rank projects into two tiers. Projects ranked in Tier 1 are only required to meet the project quality and project threshold requirements. They are not subject to the CoC score. Projects ranked in Tier 2 are competitively awarded based on CoC score, as well as subject to project quality/threshold requirements.

- Tier 1 is set at 30% of overall funding (compared to 90% in 2024)
- Tier 2 is set at 70% of overall funding (compared to 10% in 2024)

No more than 30 percent of a CoC's Annual Renewal Demand (ARD) can be used to fund Permanent Housing projects, including PH-PSH, PH-RRH and Joint TH and PH-RRH projects, forcing CoCs to reallocate the majority of their current programming to other project types.

Joint Component TH-RRH renewal projects continue to be eligible for renewal funding but are not allowable as a new project type.

TOP 10 NOFO CHANGES

1. Only 30 percent of a CoC's funding is protected in Tier 1, down from 90 percent in past years. This is the most significant structural change in a decade. With 70 percent of funding now fully competitive and tied to Merit Review scores and project ranking, even small scoring differences could lead to major funding losses.
2. Permanent Housing (PSH, RRH, Joint TH-RRH) is capped at 30 percent of ARD. CoCs must shift funding from existing permanent housing projects that exceed this cap toward new projects that are aligned with the administration's priorities, particularly transitional housing with high service requirements. New Joint TH-RRH projects are no longer eligible.
3. All projects except for CoC Planning/UFA must compete, including YHDP renewals and DV Bonus. These projects must be ranked and scored in Tier 2 with no special protections, increasing competition across the entire portfolio.
4. New prohibitions can disqualify any project. HUD may reject projects in Tier 1 or 2 for engaging in racial preferences, using a definition of sex "other than binary," or conducting activities viewed as "harm reduction." These provisions create significant new compliance risks.
5. HUD's new national priority centers on treatment, recovery, and required services. HUD favors projects with onsite substance use treatment, required service participation, sufficient treatment bed capacity, and 24/7 detox or inpatient access. Required services now boost scoring.
6. HUD elevates "public safety" as a major scoring factor. CoCs must show laws prohibiting camping and illicit drug use, enforcement protocols, cooperation with law enforcement, use of involuntary commitment standards, and SORNA implementation. These factors elevate the influence of local criminalization policies.
7. New project requirements reshape TH, RRH, PSH, and Street Outreach. New transitional housing must provide 40 hours/week of services; new RRH must show strong employment outcomes and require services; new PSH must serve elderly or physically disabled individuals (not including substance use disorder) with required services; and new street outreach must demonstrate strong law-enforcement partnerships.
8. Merit Review replaces prior CoC scoring and shifts weighting. The 130-point system includes 9 points for Project Capacity/Ranking, 40 for System Performance, and 81 for Coordination & Engagement, plus 19 bonus points. Service requirements feature prominently throughout.
9. Tier 2 scoring now favors projects with required services. Tier 2 projects receive up to 100 points based on Merit Review scores, local ranking, and up to 10 points for requiring services—giving mandatory-service models a clear advantage.
10. HUD's expanded Risk Review increases the likelihood of project rejection. HUD may consider media reports, Inspector General and Government Accountability Office findings, public complaints, or an organization's "history of subsidizing activities that conflict with the NOFO" as grounds for denying funding.

Continuum of Care-Level Analysis

HUD'S CUTS TO PERMANENT HOUSING WILL FORCE MORE THAN 170,000 PEOPLE BACK ONTO THE STREETS

A new decision by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development will largely defund permanent housing programs for people experiencing homelessness in communities across the nation by imposing a cap of 30% on permanent housing. Currently, communities spend about 88% on permanent housing. These programs provide a lifeline for seniors, veterans, families, and people with physical and mental disabilities. While these cuts will affect every state in the country, not every community will be impacted the same. Search for your community or state abbreviation in the table below.

Continuum of Care	Currently: Percent of CoC Funding Dedicated to Permanent Housing	Currently: Percent of PSH Funded by the CoC Program	Currently: Percent of RRH Funded by the CoC Program	Projection: Loss in Funding for Permanent Housing Under New NOFO	Projection: Loss in Permanent Housing Beds Under New NOFO
United States	88%	43%	32%	$2,103,447,818	175,884

CA-609 San Bernardino City & County CoC	92%	17%	12%	$13,594,174	972

These calculations are the Alliance's best estimate based on publicly available data. This data are compiled from several sources including HUD's posted 2025 Annual Renewal Demand, 2024 CoC Award Announcements and the 2024 Housing Inventory Count. The calculations account for local variations in factors like housing and planning costs. However, much of this data is out of date, and there are several reasons to believe that these numbers understate the devastation communities may face. Thus, it may be out of step with the current reality in your community.

The Alliance strongly recommends that states and localities supplement these numbers with current data to provide more accurate estimates.

Governor Newsom sues Trump administration for cruel cuts to homeless housing funding that will hurt families

What you need to know: Governor Newsom filed a lawsuit today as part of a multistate coalition challenging the Trump administration's sudden slash of funding for permanent housing programs, threatening housing access for tens of thousands of vulnerable Californians.

SACRAMENTO – Governor Newsom and Attorney General Rob Bonta today, alongside a multistate coalition including Washington, filed a lawsuit against the Trump administration challenging abrupt changes that would cut ongoing support from established homeless housing programs. The Trump administration's callous and unlawful decision threatens to upend generational progress and strategies that are making a difference in turning the nationwide homelessness crisis around and jeopardize housing access for American families.

Needlessly putting American families at risk

Earlier this month, the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development's (HUD) released new cruel funding provisions in its 2025 Continuum of Care (CoC) notice of funding opportunity. These changes include a number of arbitrary and senseless new rules that will disadvantage and defund housing programs with a proven record of success in addressing homelessness and will have devastating consequences for communities in California and across the country.

Specifically, the federal government is now imposing a cap on permanent housing restricts CoCs to using only 30% of funds for permanent supportive housing and rapid rehousing. Last year, California CoCs were awarded more than $683 million in CoC funding, approximately 90 percent of which went to permanent housing projects. The new rules would gut funding for those projects, which currently keep tens of thousands of people housed.

These cuts would not only threaten housing for older adults, families with children, veterans, people with disabilities, transition-aged youth, and people served by Medi-Cal, CalFresh, CalWORKs, and foster care systems — they would also undermine the goals of the California Statewide Action Plan, including reducing unsheltered homelessness and increasing permanent housing placements, housing retention, prevention, and production.

"Under both Democratic and Republican presidents, HUD's Continuum of Care Program has helped states, local governments, and nonprofit organizations combat homelessness and provide safe, stable housing to our most vulnerable residents. This program has proven to be effective at getting Americans off the streets, yet the Trump Administration is now attempting to illegally slash its funding," said Attorney General Bonta. "As a result, for the 47th time in 44 weeks, I'm taking President Trump to court. Those caring for our unsheltered neighbors need the federal government's continued support. Absent judicial intervention, the Trump Administration's actions would only worsen the homelessness crisis."

Cuts not authorized by Congress

HUD's cuts put tens of thousands of Californians at risk of losing their homes and access to vital services. These abrupt cuts impact previously funded projects in the middle of a two-year funding cycle. The lawsuit argues that the changes are illegal because they alter funding eligibility without authorization by Congress and are not supported by evidence or reason.

The Trump administration's actions are contrary to Congress' stated goals that the funds be used for proven strategies to address homelessness, including California's Housing First policy and permanent supportive housing programs which have proven successful. These shifts not only threaten existing programs — they jeopardize the braided system of federal, state, and local investments that keep California's homelessness response viable.

"Permanent and supportive housing is central to addressing homelessness and helping bring stability into people's lives," said Business, Consumer Services and Housing Secretary Tomiqua Moss. "The federal government's sudden and cruel changes to how nonprofits and community organizations can access funding threatens to undo years of progress and puts more than 170,000 people nationwide at risk. Here in California, we're pushing back on this attempt to deprive vulnerable Californians of a place to call home."

"The Trump Administration's proposed cuts would worsen the homelessness crisis by pulling funding from permanent housing and putting tens of thousands of Californians at risk," said California Health and Human Services (CalHHS) Secretary Kim Johnson. "This would undo years of progress and destabilize our neighbors who finally found a safe place to live and stability. It's harmful policy that will lead to devastating health outcomes. California will continue championing permanent, person-centered solutions that strengthen, not weaken, our response to homelessness."

Reversing a decades-in-the-making crisis

The Newsom administration is making significant progress in reversing decades of inaction on homelessness. Between 2014 and 2019—before Governor Newsom took office—unsheltered homelessness in California rose by approximately 37,000 people. Since then, under this Administration, California has significantly slowed that growth, even as many other states have seen worsening trends. In 2024, while homelessness increased nationally by over 18%, California limited its overall increase to just 3% — a lower rate than in 40 other states. The state also held the growth of unsheltered homelessness to just 0.45%, compared to a national increase of nearly 7%. States like Florida, Texas, New York, and Illinois saw larger increases both in percentage and absolute numbers. California also achieved the nation's largest reduction in veteran homelessness and made meaningful progress in reducing youth homelessness.

California's strategy works

President Trump's cruel policies fly in the face of strategies that are proven to work. From the very first moments of the Newsom administration, the national crisis of housing and homelessness — which were decades in the making — has been addressed with ingenuity, seriousness, and expertise. No other state has devoted as much time and attention to these twin problems — and California is a leader in producing positive results. Governor Newsom is creating a structural and foundational model for America.

Important Update on Changes to the Continuum of Care Program

 National Alliance to END HOMELESSNESS

Best Practices A practical newsletter for people ending homelessness.

Today, the National Alliance to End Homelessness, together with a broad coalition of local governments and nonprofit organizations, filed a lawsuit challenging the Trump-Vance Administration's unlawful changes to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's Continuum of Care (CoC) Program. These abrupt changes threaten to push more than 170,000 individuals and families back into homelessness by undermining the programs that have successfully moved people into stable housing for decades.

The Administration announced these changes with no substantive advanced notice and on a highly compressed timeline, rescinding a 2-year CoC Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) and replacing it with a new NOFO that includes restrictions that destabilize the entire CoC process. Communities were given almost no time to adapt before the funding cycle began, creating widespread confusion and threatening critical housing programs at the peak of winter.

This legal action, titled National Alliance to End Homelessness v. Turner et al., was filed in the U.S. District Court for the District of Rhode Island. It seeks a preliminary injunction to stop these unlawful restrictions before they take effect. The case reflects our deep commitment to ensuring that local communities can continue implementing effective, evidence-based solutions free from politically motivated interference.

As you may be aware, last week several Attorneys General and Governors filed a related case against HUD. However, the Alliance has members in all 50 states. The Alliance's action reflects a shared concern for people experiencing homelessness nationwide and ensures that any relief and clarity from the courts can reach all communities.

We are joined in this effort by our partners at the National Low Income Housing Coalition, Crossroads Rhode Island, Youth Pride, Inc., and a coalition of cities and counties including Santa Clara County, San Francisco, Cambridge, Nashville, King County, Tucson, and Boston.

We are grateful for your partnership and shared commitment to protecting and advancing proven solutions to homelessness.

Local Governments and Nonprofit Groups Challenge Unlawful New Trump-Vance Administration Restrictions That Threaten Proven Solutions to Homelessness

Suit Raises Concerns that Trump-Vance Administration Actions Will Push More Than 170,000 People Into Homelessness as Cold Winter Months Arrive

Contact: Tom Murphy | tmurphy@naeh.org | 202-368-8571

Providence, RI, December 1, 2025 — A broad coalition of local governments and nonprofit organizations is taking legal action to stop the Trump-Vance administration from creating unlawful and unreasonable restrictions that seek to shift funding away from proven solutions to homelessness, threatening to push hundreds of thousands of people onto the street as cold winter months arrive.

For years and through multiple administrations, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD)'s Continuum of Care (CoC) Program has helped provide the necessary resources for local governments and organizations to fund permanent housing projects for veterans, seniors, people with disabilities, and individuals and families with children experiencing homelessness. On November 13, 2025, however, without explanation, HUD rescinded a necessary program notice, replacing it with one that threatens existing services. This move, which could push hundreds of thousands of Americans into homelessness, is being done on a compressed timeline, and throwing the entire program, meant to ensure stability for programs and the people who rely on them, into chaos.

After more than a decade of prioritizing evidence-based approaches that reduce homelessness, as the complaint explains, the new Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) for FY 2025 upends the stability of the program required by law, will have devastating impacts for plaintiffs and cause hundreds of thousands of children, youth, adults, and families to become homeless. The NOFO makes drastic changes at every step of the process—by changing the types of projects eligible for funding, the criteria for selecting awardees, and the conditions grantees will be required to accept in order to receive funding.

The coalition behind the new legal challenge includes the National Alliance to End Homelessness (NAEH), the National Low Income Housing Coalition (NLIHC), Crossroads Rhode Island, Youth Pride, Inc., as well as the County of Santa Clara, Calif., San Francisco, Calif., King County, Wash., Boston, Mass., Cambridge, Mass., Nashville, Tenn., and Tucson, Ariz. Democracy Forward represents the coalition of nonprofit organizations in the matter; the National Homelessness Law Center represents NAEH and NLIHC; Public Rights Project represents the cities of Boston, Cambridge, Nashville and Tucson; and Santa Clara County and San Francisco represent themselves. The Lawyers' Committee for Rhode Island, and the ACLU Foundation of RI represent all plaintiffs.

POLITICOHUD temporarily pauses homelessness funding overhaul just ahead of court hearing

The changes to the program are being challenged in two lawsuits filed by states, local governments and nonprofit organizations.

By Katherine Hapgood 12/08/2025 06:38 PM EST

The Department of Housing and Urban Development on Monday temporarily revoked a controversial policy change that would significantly cut permanent housing funding for people experiencing homelessness.

HUD withdrew the notice of funding opportunity about 90 minutes before a Monday afternoon court hearing regarding two lawsuits challenging the agency's recent changes to the Continuum of Care program — one from a coalition of 21 attorneys generals and governors and another from a group of 11 local governments and non-profit organizations.

According to a court filing, HUD's reasoning for rescinding the policy change was "to assess the issues raised by Plaintiffs in their suits and to fashion a revised [notice of funding opportunity]."

The two suits challenge a policy change by HUD Secretary Scott Turner which mandates that only 30 percent of the agency's Continuum of Care funding can be used for permanent housing, down from roughly 90 percent. The program provides money to local organizations and agencies to connect people experiencing homelessness to housing and resources. The policy change, which was first reported by POLITICO, would move most of the funds to temporary transitional housing assistance with some work or service requirements.

The new conditions placed on the program would also give HUD the ability to restrict funding for organizations that acknowledge the existence of transgender or nonbinary individuals.

The withdrawal of the notice shortly before Monday's court hearing surprised U.S. District Judge Mary S. McElroy, who said she wasn't aware of the development.

"This sort of haphazard approach to administrative law is the problem," said McElroy, who was nominated by President Donald Trump in 2019 after an initial nomination by former President Barack Obama expired.

"You can change the policy all you want but there's a mechanism for doing so and it's not doing things an hour before court and it's not doing some of the things that have been done in these cases," McElroy said during the hearing. She ordered the government to submit new arguments by next week addressing the last-minute change.

A HUD spokesperson said the agency will reissue the funding notice "as quickly as possible with technical corrections."

"The Department intends to make resources available in a timely manner so grantees with measurable results can continue to support vulnerable populations. The Department remains fully committed to making long overdue reforms to its homelessness assistance programs," the spokesperson said in a statement.

HUD employees were expected to work this week to open the application process under the new funding requirements but the policy change withdrawn caught HUD employees by surprise, according to two agency employees granted anonymity to discuss internal communication.

Hassan Kanu contributed to this report.

U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development

Continuum of Care Program

FY 25 COC NOFO Update

The Department has withdrawn a Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) with respect to the Continuum of Care (CoC) grant program. This withdrawal will allow the Department to make appropriate revisions to the NOFO, and the Department intends to do so. In the previous FY 24-25 NOFO, the Department reserved the right to make changes to the NOFO instead of processing renewals for a variety of reasons, including to accommodate a new CoC or Youth Homelessness Demonstration Program (YHDP) priority or new funding source. The Department still intends to exercise this discretion and make changes to the previously issued CoC NOFO to account for new priorities. HUD anticipates reissuing a modified NOFO well in advance of the deadline for obligation of available Fiscal Year 2025 funds.

Note from Chief of Homeless Services-Update on HUD Removal of the FY 2025 CoC NOFO

San Bernardino County | Homeless Services Note from Chief of Homeless Services

Dear CoC Membership,

As of this morning, HUD has removed the FY 2025 CoC NOFO from its website. At this time, HUD has not released an official explanation for the removal, nor has any updated timeline or revised information been provided. The Office of Homeless Services (OHS) is closely monitoring communications from HUD and will promptly share updates as soon as additional information becomes available.

Recommendation and Next Steps

Despite the temporary removal of the NOFO, OHS recommends that all CoC partners continue moving forward with existing planning and preparation efforts. Maintaining our momentum is critical to ensuring that—once HUD reinstates the NOFO—we are fully prepared to submit a strong, timely, and competitive application. This includes continuing work on:

- Project planning and coordination
- Data and documentation readiness
- Stakeholder engagement
- Internal review and scoring processes
- Regional planning and communication efforts

By staying on track, we will be positioned to respond quickly and effectively when HUD releases the updated NOFO. We understand that unexpected changes in federal processes can create uncertainty, and we appreciate your flexibility and continued partnership. OHS will provide additional updates as soon as HUD issues further guidance.

If you have questions, please feel free to reach out to our team.

Thank you for your ongoing collaboration and commitment to strengthening our homelessness response system.

What just happened with the 2025 NOFO?

In today's newsletter, we'll cover some Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs).

On December 8th, the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) withdrew the previously posted FY 2025 Continuum of Care (CoC) Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO). While HUD has stated they plan to revise and reissue the NOFO, the timeline and scope of changes are still unclear.

In this rapidly shifting moment, Homebase is here to help you make sense of the uncertainty. Below, we break down some frequently asked questions and offer guidance on what might come next, what to prepare for, and what communities can do now.

Q. What has happened with the NOFO so far?

Major developments include:

- November 13: HUD released the FY 2025 CoC NOFO, outlining dramatic shifts in funding priorities and application criteria.
- November 25 - December 1: Two lawsuits, NAEH v. HUD and State of Washington v. HUD, were filed. Both challenge the legality of several changes in the NOFO.
- December 8: HUD withdrew the FY 2025 CoC NOFO. Shortly after their announcement, there was a joint court hearing for the two lawsuits. During the hearing, HUD argued the lawsuits were now moot, since the NOFO was withdrawn. The Court disagreed, stating the issue is "capable of repetition and evading review" and allowing the cases to move forward.

Q. What's happening next with the NOFO?

A follow-up hearing is scheduled for December 19, where the Court will likely consider whether HUD can proceed with a revised NOFO and how to handle the plaintiffs' concerns. HUD has stated they plan to reissue a revised NOFO, but timing and changes are unknown.

Q. What should my community be thinking about?

We suggest the following next steps:

- Determine your local strategy. Decide whether to pause your local CoC NOFO process. Clearly communicate your strategy to potential applicants.
- Advise interested applicants. Inform stakeholders that a revised NOFO may require revisiting and changing the local application process, project prioritization, and scoring.
- Look at the big picture. Even though this NOFO was withdrawn, it offers insight into HUD's shifting priorities, including a greater emphasis on Transitional Housing (TH) and Supportive Services Only (SSO) projects. This is a good time to assess how your community is positioned to build capacity in these areas and do proactive outreach to TH, SSO, and faith-based partners.

Q. What can my community do now?

We suggest the following next steps:

- Urge Congress to hold HUD accountable. Find NAEH's advocacy resources here.
- Advocate for extended renewals to avoid gaps. Because many existing CoC grants expire between January and June, advocate for a provision to renew eligible grants for 12 months, preventing service disruption and protecting clients from losing housing or support.
- Mobilize and amplify community voices. CoCs should partner with local providers and people with lived experience to reach out to elected officials to raise concern about the NOFO's potential harms.

Your community's federal homelessness funding is in jeopardy.

Contact Congress Today

On November 13, 2025, HUD issued a new Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) for FY2025 funding for the Continuum of Care (CoC) Program, the main source of federal homelessness funding. The NOFO included radical new changes to policy and the overall funding process.

These reckless changes would have devastating impacts and displace at least 170,000 formerly homeless households. Communities have had difficult conversations about how to respond and what they can do to prevent harm to clients – all without access to meaningful guidance or resources from HUD. Now, a week before local applications were due, HUD has unexpectedly withdrawn the funding announcement to make revisions and reissue it. This has placed all planning efforts on pause and further delayed the award of funds indefinitely.

Congress Must Act

Current homelessness grants across the country begin to expire in January 2026, with more grants running out of funds each month thereafter. Withdrawing the NOFO now to make revisions will necessarily cause even more delays and sow greater uncertainty.

HUD continues to demonstrate that it cannot be trusted to handle critical and life-saving resources. Our most vulnerable neighbors, as well as program staff, community partnerships, and landlords who rely on tenants' rent, will all be collateral damage.

Members of Congress have been hearing your concerns for months, but NOW they need to ACT! Everyone needs to speak up: enough is enough.

Who Can Afford to Rent in California's Many Regions?

A new report from the California Housing Partnership finds that rent affordability remains out of reach for the lowest income households. Report highlights include:

- Extremely low-income households (30% AMI) cannot afford average rents in any county
- Very low-income households (50% AMI) can only afford average rents in 8 counties
- Lower-income households (60% AMI) can afford average rents in 18 counties
- Low-income households (80% AMI) can afford average rents in 46 counties
- Median-income households (100% AMI) can afford average rents in 56 of the 58 counties
- 60% of zip codes are affordable to median-income households
- 30% of zip codes are affordable to low-income households

The analysis concludes that state and local leaders should continue to prioritize scarce affordable housing resources for Californians at the lowest income levels first or risk further increasing the number of households living in poverty or without a home.

NEW! The 2025 report also features the Partnership's newly developed "Where Can You Afford to Rent in 2025?" interactive mapping tool. This tool allows the user to input their household income to determine which zip codes they can or cannot afford, as well as how much more they would need to make to afford the average 2-bedroom asking rent. >> Explore the tool here.

Who Can Afford to Rent in California's Many Regions?

KEY FINDINGS

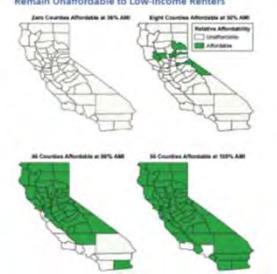

- Extremely low-income households (30% AMI) cannot afford the average rent in any county.
- Very low-income households (50% AMI) can only afford average rents in 8 counties.
- Lower-income households (60% AMI) can afford average rents in 18 counties.
- Low-income households (80% AMI) can afford average rents in 46 counties.
- Median-income households (100% AMI) can afford average rents in 56 of 58 counties.
- Even in counties where rents appear affordable for median-income households, these renters may struggle to find available units due to extremely low vacancy rates of 5% or less.
- 60% of zip codes are not affordable to low-income households.
- 30% of zip codes are not affordable to median-income households.
- Our new interactive map shows affordable zip codes for each income level.

POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS

To address the affordability gap identified in this report, the state needs to increase the supply of affordable homes for low-income households through state-led construction and preservation of existing affordable homes by:

1. Passing the Affordable Housing Bond Act of 2026 (AB 73-0561-17) to provide $10 billion to replenish key affordable housing production and preservation programs focused on serving low-income households.
2. Creating a California Community Reinvestment Act by passing AB 891, requiring large corporations profiting from doing business in California are obligated to invest in affordable housing just as federally-regulated banks are.
3. Allowing owners of existing state-funded affordable housing to access hundreds of millions in accrued equity in their properties to fund new affordable home development.
4. Implementing the newly authorized Vehicle Miles Traveled mitigation bank to fund climate-friendly affordable housing near transit and job centers.
5. Implementing a true "one-stop-shop" so that all state affordable rental housing resources can be awarded at one time with a single application, saving more than $100,000 per new affordable home in most cases.

Where Can You Afford to Rent?

Last week, we published our annual "Who Can Afford to Rent?" policy brief which provides a snapshot on housing affordability across the state and policy recommendations for addressing the pressing housing needs of California's lowest income renters.

In our latest blog, report author, Research Manager Matt Alvarez-Nissen, invites you to explore our latest visualization tool: "Where Can You Afford to Rent?"

This interactive online tool is a helpful companion to our report offering granular and realistic understanding of affordability in communities across the state.

Where Can You Afford to Rent in 2025?

November 18, 2025 by Matt Alvarez-Nissen, Research Manager

The California Housing Partnership (Partnership) regularly publishes the "Who Can Afford to Rent?" policy brief to give a snapshot of affordability in California and provide recommendations to policymakers on how to best address the pressing housing needs of the state's lowest income renters. This year, for the first time, we also published the "Where Can You Afford to Rent in 2025?" interactive online tool as a supplement to show users a more granular and realistic understanding of affordability in their communities and across the state.

Most affordable housing programs rely on area median income (AMI) to define income level—80% of AMI is considered “low-income”—which is why we use AMI to define affordability in our brief. However, AMIs differ widely across the state, meaning a “low-income” household can look very different depending on what county they live in. Our policy brief is necessarily limited to discussing whether a household already living in a particular county can afford rents in that county. This new tool provides insight on whether any household could afford to move to a given neighborhood anywhere in the state.

To better understand the variability of AMI take, for example, a low-income household living in San Francisco County and one living in Riverside County. When adjusting to a two-bedroom home, the San Francisco household earns up to $133,704 annually while the Riverside household only earns up to $74,808 annually. Further, the San Francisco household can afford a monthly rent of $3,342.60 and the Riverside household can only afford $1,870.20.^[1] Although neither low-income household can afford San Francisco's average two-bedroom asking rent of $3,962,^[2] the low-income San Francisco-based household only needs a 19% income increase to afford rent compared to the 112% percent income increase the low-income Riverside-based household needs in order to afford the move to San Francisco.

Our tool addresses the uneven distribution of incomes across the state and provides a more comprehensive understanding of affordability by letting users input their household income to determine which zip codes they can or cannot afford, as well as how much more they would need to make to afford the average two-bedroom asking rent. As shown in Figure 1 below, in the orange and red map sections, the typical low-income Californian household (a household making $65,360 annually)^[3] would find it nearly impossible to afford the average rent in most neighborhoods in the Bay Area, Los Angeles County, and the southern Californian coast through San Diego.

New UCSF BHII Report Finds High Rates of Chronic Disease and Disability Among Californians Experiencing Homelessness

Despite high rates of insurance, many face steep barriers to care.

SAN FRANCISCO (November 18, 2025) — The University of California, San Francisco Benioff Homelessness and Housing Initiative (BHII) today released a report on the relationship between health and homelessness.

Toward Thriving: Understanding Health & Homelessness reveals that nearly half of Californians experiencing homelessness rate their health as poor or fair—about four times the rate in the general U.S. population. The report documents high rates of chronic disease, disability, and steep barriers to care for Californians experiencing homelessness.

“Homelessness and poor health are deeply intertwined,” said Margot Kushel, MD, Director of UCSF BHII and lead author of the report. “For many—especially older adults—health crises can lead to the loss of housing, and once people are homeless, their health deteriorates rapidly. These findings show that solving homelessness effectively requires addressing health—not as a separate challenge, but as a deeply connected part of the same crisis.”

The Health and Homelessness Report is based on survey data and in-depth interviews from the California Statewide Study of People Experiencing Homelessness (CASPEH), the largest representative study of homelessness in the U.S. since the mid-1990s.

The full findings and recommendations from the report are available here.

Key Findings

- Poor health is pervasive: Nearly half (45%) of adults experiencing homelessness rated their health as poor or fair, compared to 10% of the general population.
- Chronic disease is common: Six in ten (60%) reported at least one chronic condition, and about one in eight (12%) reported three or more. Hypertension (30%), chronic lung disease (25%), and heart disease or stroke (15%) were most frequent.
- Tobacco use is common and contributes to poor health: Seven in ten (70%) adults experiencing homelessness smoke—six times the national rate.
- Physical limitations are widespread: Over one-third (34%) of adults reported difficulty with at least one daily activity (ADL) such as bathing, dressing, or eating. Among adults aged 50 and older, nearly half (43%) had at least one ADL limitation.
- Access to care is limited despite insurance: While most (83%) had health insurance—primarily Medi-Cal—only half (52%) had a regular place for care and fewer than four in ten (39%) had a primary care provider.

• High rates of acute care use: More than one-third (37%) visited an emergency department in the past six months without being admitted, and one in five (21%) were hospitalized.

“This report reveals a health care system that is inaccessible for those who need it most,” said Michelle Schneidermann, MD, Director of People-Centered Care at the California Health Care Foundation, which funded the report. “It’s a costly failure that requires us to fundamentally rethink how we deliver care to people experiencing homelessness in our communities and a stark reminder of why the stability that comes with housing is a critical foundation to good health.”

Recommendations

Based on the report findings, BHII endorses policy recommendations that support coordinated action across housing, healthcare, and social service systems. Recommendations include: Expand and stabilize Medicaid coverage for people experiencing homelessness; scale street medicine and shelter-based care models that deliver primary and urgent care in non-traditional settings; enhance medical respite programs for people discharged from hospitals without stable housing; create accessible, supportive housing designed for people with disabilities and chronic disease; invest in culturally and linguistically responsive care to build trust and equity across diverse communities.

Toward Thriving: Understanding Health & Homelessness is part of a series of reports based on CASPEH, including the comprehensive study, reports on intimate partner violence and homelessness, racial equity—examining Black and Latinx Californians’ experiences of homelessness, older adults experiencing homelessness, behavioral health and homelessness, and topic briefs on pregnancy and unsheltered homelessness.

UNDERSTANDING HEALTH AND HOMELESSNESS

Toward Thriving

Understanding Health and Homelessness

Findings from the California Statewide Study of People Experiencing Homelessness

NOVEMBER 2025

Benioff Homelessness and Housing Initiative
UCSF
University of California San Francisco

INTRODUCTION

Homelessness negatively impacts health, directly and indirectly. The environmental conditions of homelessness—including exposure to the elements and violence, inability to access medications, lack of hygiene facilities and healthy food, disrupted sleep, and stress all take a toll on health. People experiencing homelessness struggle to get appropriate and timely medical care; without transportation or a way to get to a medical center or to the internet, they struggle to schedule and attend appointments. With enormous competing demands on their time as they struggle for shelter and food, healthcare often takes a backseat to more urgent needs.

Those people in poor health have an increased risk of homelessness and homelessness worsens health, creating a vicious cycle. Combined with significant barriers to healthcare, it is unsurprising that people experiencing homelessness are in poor health and rely on acute care settings such as emergency departments and hospitals for treatment. The aging of the homeless population has worsened these issues.

Drawing on data from the California Statewide Study of People Experiencing Homelessness (CASSPEH), the largest representative study of homelessness in the United States in 30 years, this report presents findings on the physical health of people experiencing homelessness, how they use the healthcare system, and recommendations to address these challenges.

California's homelessness crisis is a public health crisis, demanding coordinated responses across housing, healthcare, and social service systems.

DHCS Awards $145.5 Million Statewide to Expand Whole-Person Care and Transform Medi-Cal Services

The California Department of Health Care Services (DHCS) today awarded $145.5 million to 153 local providers across California. These organizations provide Enhanced Care Management (ECM) and Community Supports services, including transitional rent, to Medi-Cal members who need it most. This award is being made through Round 4 of the Providing Access and Transforming Health (PATH) Capacity and Infrastructure, Transition, Expansion, and Development (CITED) initiative and is helping providers grow and maintain their ability to serve Medi-Cal members and build a healthier California.

Recent data show that these major upfront investments are resulting in long-term savings for California's Medi-Cal program. Community Supports have proven to be cost-effective, reducing avoidable emergency department visits, hospitalizations, and long-term care use. By investing now in provider capacity and infrastructure, DHCS is helping ensure a more sustainable, efficient, and equitable health care system for the future.

ECM and Community Supports are key to improving Medi-Cal, helping people with complex needs access in-person care, housing support, and local services. PATH CITED funds will strengthen ECM and Community Supports by investing in workforce, infrastructure, technology, and capacity building. Round 4 recipients—including cities, counties, local government agencies, Tribal entities, nonprofits, and public hospitals—are dedicated to expanding local care and supporting communities that have not had enough resources in the past.

Round 4 is the last funding round for CITED. Organizations can visit the PATH website for more opportunities, such as free technical help, on-demand resources, local collaborative planning efforts, and more.

"One Big Beautiful Bill Act": Changes to SNAP and Medicaid and Implications for People Experiencing Homelessness

Background

On July 4th, President Trump signed into law the "One Big Beautiful Bill Act," also known as H.R.1. The bill contains the largest cuts to the social safety net in America's history. An estimated 11 million people are expected to lose health care, and 3 million people are expected to lose SNAP. The majority of these cuts will occur through the introduction of procedural requirements - like work requirements and increased renewal checks - that cause eligible individuals to lose access to benefits.

While the only housing-specific change in H.R.1 is the permanent expansion of the Low-Income Housing Tax Credit, the bill will still have a significant impact on homelessness. Cuts to America's social safety net will leave people without access to health care and groceries, and they will have fewer dollars to cover basic needs - including housing. This will lead to more housing instability and make it harder to regain stability once homeless.

This fact sheet provides an overview of the changes to Medicaid and SNAP and their expected impact on people experiencing homelessness, and opportunities for homeless systems of care and providers to mitigate those impacts.

The Impact of Procedural Requirements on People Experiencing Homelessness

People experiencing homelessness - who rely on Medicaid and SNAP for access to health care, groceries, and in some states, heating related benefits - are vulnerable to these new requirements. These requirements are particularly challenging for individuals who do not have a mailing address, lack access to the technology needed to conduct frequent reporting checks, or are managing a family and all their belongings with no place to call home. People experiencing homelessness may struggle with mental and physical health challenges that make it challenging to complete complex bureaucratic processes. As a result, Medicaid renewals and work requirements pose a grave threat to unhoused individuals' ability to access and maintain these vital benefits.

Public Benefits and Work Requirements

H.R.1 adds a first-ever national work requirement to Medicaid and expands SNAP work requirements, which condition receipt of public benefits on work and work-related activities. Documenting and reporting on those activities on a regular basis can be incredibly challenging, causing many eligible individuals to lose benefits.

Research shows that work requirements do not increase employment, lead to loss of benefits, and cost a significant amount of money for states to administer. 27% of Medicaid recipients under 65 are already working or managing life conditions that exempt them from work requirements (caregiving, in school, or managing an illness or disability). Significantly, 64% of Medicaid recipients under 65 are already working full- or part-time.

H.R.1 and the Implications for People Experiencing Homelessness

The Medicaid changes most likely to impact people experiencing homelessness include: increased enrollment requirements, increased expenses, changes to immigrant eligibility, and changes to state Medicaid funding. Many of these changes target the Affordable Care Act (ACA) Medicaid expansion, adults with incomes up to 138% of the federal poverty level.

How Does H.R.1 Change Medicaid?

The Medicaid changes most likely to impact people experiencing homelessness include: increased enrollment requirements, increased expenses, changes to immigrant eligibility, and changes to state Medicaid funding. Many of these changes target the Affordable Care Act (ACA) Medicaid expansion, adults with incomes up to 138% of the federal poverty level.

Enrollee Requirements

"Community Engagement" Requirements (aka Work Requirements)

- Requires individuals in the Medicaid expansion population to prove 80 hours per month of work, community service, school, part-time work, and/or a community service OR a monthly earned income of at least 80% of the federal hourly minimum wage.
- Individuals must meet these requirements to apply for and maintain Medicaid.
- Individuals must report on those activities every 6 months, or more often at the state's discretion.
- Exemptions to the Community Engagement requirements include:
 - Parents/guardians/caretakers of a dependent child age 13 and under, or disabled individual
 - Individuals receiving Medicaid presumption coverage
 - Foster youth/former foster youth under age 26
 - American Indians or Alaska Natives
 - Deceased veterans
 - Incarcerated or recently released (within 90 days)
- If individuals don't meet the Community Engagement requirements, they will be denied ACA Marketplace subsidies.
- Timeline: By January 1, 2027, unless the state requests and is granted a waiver through December 31, 2028

More Frequent Renewals

- Requires individuals in the Medicaid expansion population to renew their eligibility at least every 6 months or more often at the state's discretion.
- Timeline: By December 31, 2026

Increased Expenses

Adds co-pays of up to $35 for the Medicaid expansion population

- Exempts primary care, mental health, substance use, as well as services provided by FQHCs, behavioral health clinics, rural health clinics
- Timeline: Effective October 1, 2028

Reduces retroactive coverage

This is significant in states with a higher minimum wage, since there may be a chance to reduce the number of work requirement hours.

29

H.R.1 and the Implications for People Experiencing Homelessness

- Reduces coverage of health expenses incurred prior to Medicaid application from 3 months to 1 month for the Medicaid expansion population and 2 months for other enrollees.
- Timeline: Effective December 31, 2026

Eligibility Changes

Limits eligibility after a 5-year waiting period to green card holders and certain other immigrants

- Ends long-standing eligibility for Medicaid coverage for some lawfully residing noncitizens (like refugees, asylees, victims of trafficking).
- Timeline: Effective October 1, 2026

Changes to Medicaid Funding

- H.R.1 will change how states fund Medicaid, which will squeeze state budgets. Experts expect that states will have to reduce Medicaid coverage, services, and/or reimbursement rates. Changes include:
 - Elimination of the federal financing and incentive to expand Medicaid (only impacts 10 states that did not expand Medicaid)
 - Freezes and reduces provider taxes and state directed payments that fund Medicaid
 - Reduces federal emergency payments for immigrants

How Does H.R.1 Change SNAP?

The SNAP changes most likely to impact people experiencing homelessness include: additional work requirements, reduced SNAP allotments, changes to immigrant eligibility, and changes to state SNAP funding.

Enrollee Requirements

Additional Work Requirements

- Currently, adult SNAP recipients without dependents must prove that they work 20+ hours a week, or they can only receive SNAP for 3 months in 3 years.
- H.R.1 expands upon these work requirements: it raises the age of people subject to work requirements from 54 to 64; narrows the definition of a dependent child to under 14; limits caregiving exemptions; and removes current protections for individuals experiencing homelessness, veterans, and youth aging out of foster care.
- Timeline: Effective immediately; timeline will depend on USDA guidance and rulemaking.

Reduced SNAP Allotments

Shrinking the SNAP allotment for individuals and households

- Limiting the increases to SNAP benefit amounts
- Changing calculations around internet and utility expenses
- Timeline: Effective immediately; timeline will depend on USDA guidance and rulemaking.

H.R.1 and the Implications for People Experiencing Homelessness

Eligibility Changes

Limits eligibility after a 5-year waiting period to citizens or lawful permanent resident, with some exceptions¹

- Ends long-standing eligibility SNAP for some lawfully residing noncitizens (refugees, asylees, parolees, and those with suspended deportations.)
- Timeline: Effective immediately; timeline will depend on USDA guidance and rulemaking.

Changes to SNAP Funding

- H.R.1 alters the federal contribution to SNAP. If states can't compensate for the federal cuts, they may have to cut SNAP or opt out of the program altogether.
 - Shifts some cost of the benefit to states (for the first time ever)
 - Requires states to pay more for administration
- Timeline: Federal FY 27 and FY 28

Opportunities to Mitigate the Impact on People Experiencing Homelessness

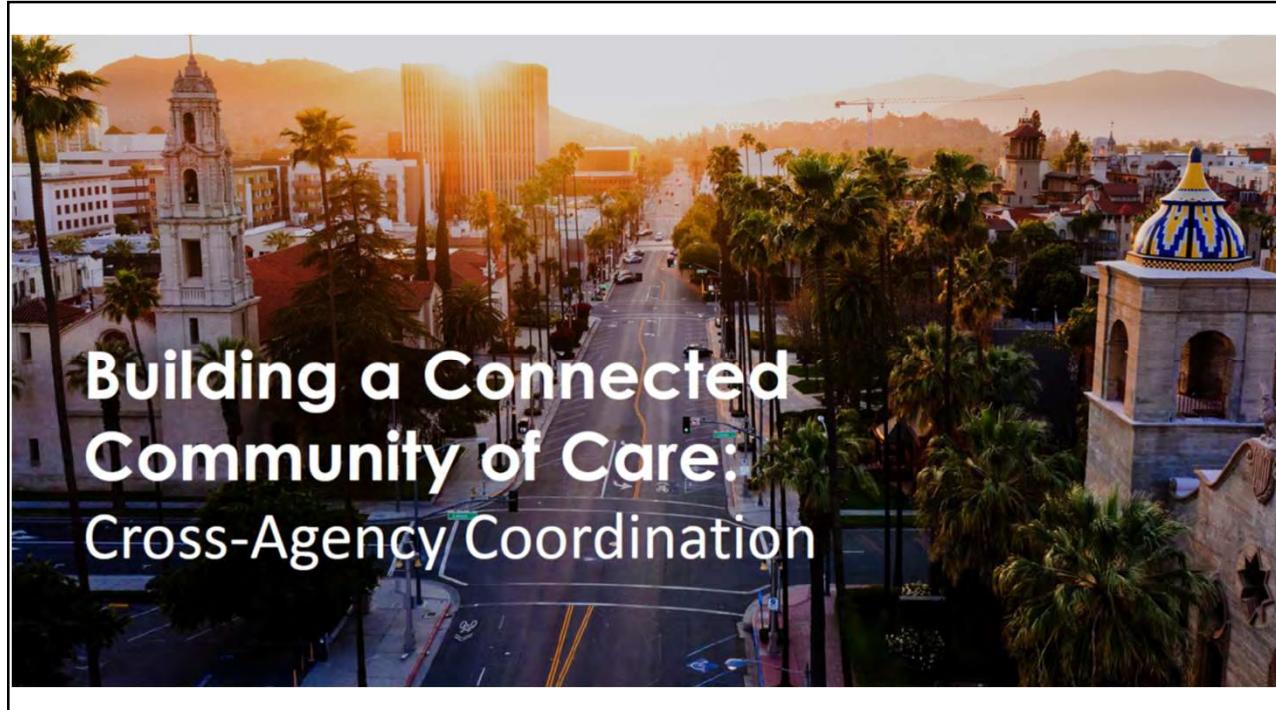

While many of these changes won't happen for months or years, there are steps that Continuum of Care, homeless services providers, and others can take today to mitigate H.R.1's harm to people experiencing homelessness.

- Explore how the data you collect on clients' disability status, medical frailty, participation in drug and alcohol treatment programs and more can be used to meet exemptions.
- Explore how the information you collect on clients' income, workforce training, community service or educational activities could be used to meet work requirements.
- Explore ways that participation in your programs could help clients meet work requirements.
- Build partnerships with workforce agencies and training programs to support employment.
- Explore data sharing with your local county or state Medicaid agencies to streamline reporting requirements for clients.
- Get engaged in local or state advocacy efforts to help shape the implementation of these programs.
- Get informed so you can help clients meet the new work and renewal requirements when they begin.

Community Care and Housing Solutions for Aging Adults (CCAHSAA) Collaboratory

October 2025 - March 2027

Join us for the Community Care and Housing Solutions for Aging Adults (CCAHSAA) "Casa" Collaboratory, which aims to create a fully functional and coordinated system of care that serves the needs of older adults experiencing homelessness in western San Bernardino County.

Moving from isolated impact within an organization, facility, or agency, to cross-sector impact at county and regional levels requires building and strengthening partnerships between health care organizations, community-based organizations (CBOs) and other agencies, from governance to workflows to service delivery – and that is what this work aims to do.

The Collaboratory, with funded support from the California Health Care Foundation (CHCF), launches in October. It will span a two-year period that will include in-person workshops and workgroups moving forward a portfolio of projects that help us understand the population and the system, enhance the system and ensure sustainability for improved outcomes for older adults experiencing homelessness.

Community Care and Housing Solutions for Aging Adults (CCAHSAA) Collaboratory

October 2025 - March 2027

Collaboratory Workgroups

The Collaboratory will support a portfolio of projects in order to address a variety of leverage and process points across the system at once to maximize our effectiveness in achieving population-level results. Each project will be led by a Workgroup who will launch and advance 90-120-day goals. The following are the four projects we will be starting with – note that the Collaboratory will be open to adding or sunsetting projects as we learn about the system and identify new opportunities for improvement.

Workgroups	Participate in Workgroups (see next page) that launch and advance projects related to your work, your role, or your interests.
• Workgroup composition and time commitment varies based on the workgroup and may include calls or offline work to progress the projects.	• The work and timeline is co-designed by each Workgroup upon launching.
In-Person Workshops	Join four, one-day In-Person Workshops over the course of the two-year initiative.
• In-person workshops are a chance to come together and build community across participants and advance the work of and share learnings across the Workgroups.	• Save the date! The first in-person workshop will be held on October 29, 2025.
All Workgroup Calls	Join occasional All Workgroup Calls to share updates and learning across Workgroups.
Data Intelligence & Information Sharing	This project will be focused on understanding available data about the sub-population from various actors across the system, piloting to fill gaps or improve the data, linking data to outcomes and measures, linking data to communities and the value case, and creating systems to sharing data.
Case Conferencing	This project will stand up cross-sector case conferencing focused on the sub-population, linking organizations across sectors in a collaborative approach to integrated care planning and improved delivery and outcomes. The group will assess the current state, develop a structure and build workflows, and test case conferencing methods.
Creative Housing & Stability Solutions	This project will identify and advance the use of creative housing and stability solutions, cataloging current options for creative housing and prevention, developing pathways to/optimizing existing solutions, and identifying new solutions, funding, and implementation plans.
Optimizing Community-Based Care Coordination	This project will focus on optimizing how care is coordinated across the community. The group will map out current providers and resources, develop workflows to optimize the use of resources, and pilot new methods and roles that can improve the system of care.

Contribute to our Landscape Analysis!

The first step in this work is gaining a deeper understanding of our population of focus: older adults experiencing homelessness within western San Bernardino County. We are currently conducting a landscape analysis, reviewing existing data sets and reports to obtain a snapshot about who the population is, what we know about them and the services they are accessing, and what key partners, services, or initiatives serve them. Please reach out with any aggregate data or reports that you are willing to share with us!

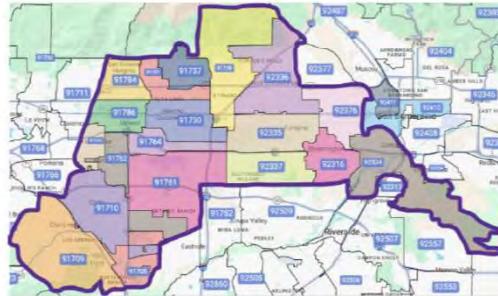

Do you want to build stronger connections across sectors and improve outcomes for older adults experiencing homelessness?
